

Pirenne 150: Perception, reflection, historiography

An international workshop
Budapest, November 15–16, 2012

Convenor: Balázs Nagy

15 November 2012

Venue: Central European University, Nádor utca 9–13., Gellner Room

15:30–15:40 Welcome address
László Kontler, Pro-Rector, Central European University,
Introduction, Balázs Nagy

Session I Late Antiquity – Early Middle Ages: the Pirenne-thesis and its aftermaths

Moderator Volker Menze (Budapest)

15:40–16:30 Keynote lecture
Richard Hodges (Rome)
Charlemagne minus Mohammed

16:30–16.45 Coffee break

16:45–17:15 József Laszlovszky (Budapest)
Charlemagne and Mohammed seen from East Central Europe

17:15–17:45 Tivadar Vida (Budapest)
Mediterrane Kontakte des Karpatenbeckens in der Spätantike. Archäologische Angaben

17:45–18:15 Marianne Sággy (Budapest)
Your money and your faith: Changing Attitudes to wealth from late Antiquity to the early Middle Ages

18:15–18:45 Irene Barbiera (Budapest / Padova)
Being a soldier: The archaeology of warriors during and after the Roman Empire

16 November 2012

Venue: Eötvös Loránd University, Faculty of Humanities, Múzeum krt. 4/a., Room 039, Council-room

9:30–9:40 Welcome address
Tamás Dezső, Dean, Faculty of Humanities, Eötvös Loránd University

Session II Current reflections on Pirenne's concept of urban history

Moderator Gábor Czoch (Budapest)

9:40–10:30: Keynote lecture
Marc Boone (Gent)
Pirenne as an urban historian, a relecture of his 'Les anciennes démocraties des Pays-Bas' in the context of today's urban history

10:30–10:45: Coffee break

10:45–11:15: Katalin Szende (Budapest)
Medieval Cities in Central Europe: Their Origins and the Revival of Trade?

11:15–11:45: Veronika Novák (Budapest)
Narrated, negotiated, reconstructed: urban space in medieval history

11:45–12:15: István Petrovics (Szeged)
Pirenne, Roman Rule and the Emergence of Towns in the Middle-Danube Basin

12:15–12:45 László Gálffy (Budapest / Szeged)
Structures locales et des établissements ecclésiastiques dans la conception d'Henri Pirenne concernant la reprise urbaine aux Xe-XIIe siècles

12:45–13:45 Lunch break

Session III Historiographical approaches to Pirenne

Moderator Gábor Klaniczay (Budapest)

13:45–14:15 Sarah Keymeulen (Gent)

The Pirenne Phenomenon (1862-1935). A Historian between Compromise and Contestation

14:15–14:45 István Draskóczy (Budapest)

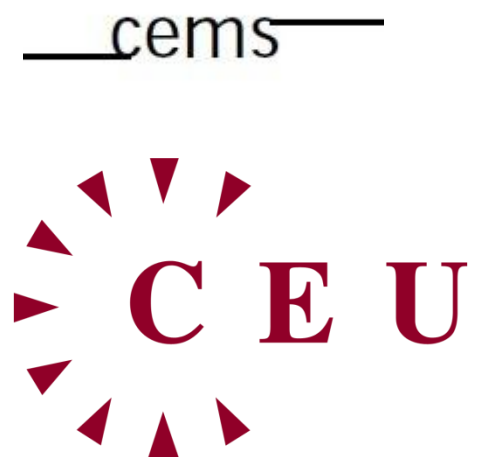

Henri Pirenne et les historiens hongrois, 1900 - 1950

14:45–15:15: Balázs Nagy (Budapest)

The reception of Pirenne's work

15:30–15:45 Summary, closing remarks

The workshop is co-organised and sponsored by the Department of Medieval and Early Modern European History of Eötvös Loránd University, the Department of Medieval Studies of Central European University, the Center for Eastern Mediterranean Studies of CEU and the Flemish Representation in Hungary.

WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE FLEMISH GOVERNMENT

